

You are invited to a series of Permaculture/gardening Gatherings!

We have the power to create change as we strive to live lightly, consume thoughtfully and garden organically! Bring your learnings and ideas to share. See our topics below...this is just the beginning...your input is greatly appreciated. Topics will evolve with our interests.

Who? All are welcome! If you have a passion to learn more about organic food production join us. We are all in the learning mode. This is a family and child centered environment so feel free to invite your friends.

Where? The home of Mike and Carolyn Paik, W334 S822 Cushing Park Rd, Delafield, 53018

When? Every third Sunday of the month: (August 18, September 22nd, October 20 and November 17th) at 6:30.

Topics (Please know our topics could change depending on the needs and interests of participants):

August 18th....Four Season Gardening (We will demonstrate how we prepare some of our beds for winter crops)

September 22nd.....We will make Elderberry syrup together...bring a small mason jar so you can go home with some wonderful syrup that will keep you healthy during the winter months! We may even make applesauce together depending on our apple crop!

October 20th.....Hugelkultur (If we get our act together) If not, we may choose another topic
November 17th....Sheet Mulching: preparing a bed for spring

What to bring: We will begin with a potluck. We will provide a huge salad and a main dish....you could bring anything you would like to contribute to the meal. A lot of important sharing and bonding happens when we break bread together so we hope you can join us.

Disclaimer: Depending on our schedule some of our gardens get messy and weedy. I keep waiting for my gardens to be “perfect”. But my current learnings are: my gardens will never be “perfect” so.... I am inviting you to laugh, smile and enjoy all my imperfections!
